

Both Rift and Summit FI populations are shallower for post 2018 eruptions
 And in general Rift is significantly deeper than Summit eruptions

Shallowing over time is supported by this.

Hard to say if something to do with 2018 or if it's since 2000's but at the very least since 2018 things are shallower

